

Unto the Council
From the Brains

After considerable analysis and all the information we could gain our determination is that

1. The spymistress is Lady Stromette Elliasa Bilsforth
2. She is extremely loyal to the Princess
3. She was the Princess' Wetnurse when she was young and has known the royal family for many years
4. She is ... competent ... but not ... historically trained as one might expect, with no offense to any. Lacking that training will leave... holes... in her network. There is no continuing structure to maintain a reasonable facsimile of competence in any area where the Stromette has not ... discovered... a way ... forward.
